la nostra storia

L'identità di Bitossi Ceramiche si sviluppa dai primi del '900 e si innesta in una tradizione produttiva della ceramica esistente a Montelupo Fiorentino fin dal 1500. L'attività della famiglia Bitossi produce ceramica artistica, almeno fin dal 1871. Sarà Guido Bitossi, nel 1921, erede della tradizione della ceramica, a costituire la "Manifattura Maioliche Artistiche" con lavorazioni artigianali tipiche del luogo. La produzione tradizionale si rinnova grazie alla direzione artistica di Aldo Londi, uomo di innato senso creativo ed estetico, attento all'evoluzione del gusto. Determinante sarà l'incontro con l'architetto Ettore Sottsass, che collaborerà per molti anni a stretto contatto con Londi. Insieme daranno vita a collezioni di successo, dove si esaltano maestria e ingegno. Bitossi Ceramiche, situata ancora oggi nel luogo di origine, è tutt'ora meta di importanti figure di design, che affascinate dal valore storico dell'azienda e dall'artigianalità delle produzioni, creano collezioni uniche, riconoscibili nelle più belle vetrine internazionali. Questa attitudine legata alla capacità imprenditoriale sviluppata negli anni e la costante ricerca della qualità del prodotto hanno creato un'identità propria di Bitossi Ceramiche qualificandola come un esempio di eccellenza italiana. La famiglia ha avviato la raccolta storica di oltre 7000 pezzi, documenti e materiale relativo alla produzione ceramica artistica dal 1871 ad oggi, costituendo così un corposo Archivio. Grazie a questa raccolta, nel 2003, è stato aperto il primo nucleo del MAIB - Museo Artistico Industriale Bitossi, gestiti dalla Fondazione Vittoriano Bitossi, emanazione diretta della famiglia. Nel 2011 il MAIB ha aderito a MUSEIMPRESA, Associazione Italiana di Archivi e Musei d'Impresa. Nel 2014, in occasione della "Settimana dedicata alla Cultura d'Impresa" la Fondazione Vittoriano Bitossi ha presentato la biografia e la mostra dedicata al maestro Aldo Londi, dal titolo "Aldo Londi. Un ceramista del Novecento". Il 2 dicembre 2014 Bitossi Ceramiche è stata ufficialmente iscritta nel Registro delle Imprese Storiche Italiane istituita dall'Unioncamere Nazionale dalla Camera di Commercio.

The identity of Bitossi Ceramiche starts from the beginning of 1900's and develops upon a productive ceramic tradition that existed in Montelupo Fiorentino starting from 1500. The Bitossi family business produces artistic ceramics, at least since 1871. It will be Guido Bitossi, heir to the ceramic tradition, to establish in 1921 the "Manifattura Maioliche Artistiche" featuring typical local craft works. The traditional production was renewed thanks to the Art Direction of Aldo Londi, a man attentive to the evolution of taste and with a natural born creative and aesthetical sense. The meeting with the architect Ettore Sottsass was of primary importance and it turned into a close collaboration with Londi for many years. Together they will give birth to successful lines which combined and magnified skill and genius. Bitossi Ceramiche still is in the original factory and it is still the destination for leading design characters who are fascinated by the historical value of the company and by craft production and create unique collections which are then recognizable in the nicest international shops. This attitude bound to the entrepreneurial skills developed throughout the years and to the constant research for quality product, helped to create its own identity for Bitossi Ceramiche, qualifying it as an example of Italian excellence. The family thus started to collect over 7000 historical works, documents and material related to the artistic ceramic production since 1871, and so it was created a massive Archive. Thanks to this collection in 2003 it was opened the main core of MAIB - Bitossi Artistic Industrial Museum, managed by the Vittoriano Bitossi Foundation, a direct offshoot of the family. In 2011 MAIB became member of MUSEIMPRESA, Italian Association of Enterprise Archives and Museums. In 2014 during the "Enterprise Culture Week" the Vittoriano Bitossi Foundation released the biography and presented the show dedicated to the master Aldo Londi, titled "Aldo Londi, a 20th Century Ceramist". On December, 2, 2014 Bitossi Ceramiche was officially entitled as member of the Registry of Italian Historical Companies, instituted by the National Union of Chambers of Commerce.

riedizioni archivio storico

Il fascino materico della ceramica e la creatività della sua collezione storica emergono con forza dalle riedizioni degli anni 50/70'. Nate sotto la preziosa direzione artistica di Aldo Londi queste ceramiche identificano il marchio Bitossi come interprete dello spirito più rappresentativo del 900'; sono proposte ora in edizione numerata e limitata per tutti gli appassionati.

The charm of ceramic material and the creativity of its historical collection emerge with strength from the Re-Editions – years 1950's-1970's collection. These works were created under the precious art direction of Aldo Londi and they identify the Bitossi brand as an interpreter of the most representative spirit of the 1900's and they are available in limited and numbered edition for all passionate collectors.

Certificato di garanzia

Ogni pezzo della nostra collezione è stato fatto a mano da maestri ceramisti. Anche le decorazioni sono dipinte a mano, pezzo per pezzo, con preziosi smalti e ricotture a fuoco. Eventuali piccole imperfezioni che si possono riscontrare sono il segno dell'esecuzione artigianale e per tanto testimoniano l'originalità del prodotto. Ogni oggetto è accompagnato dal certificato di garanzia che ne attesta l'unicità.

Certificate of guarantee

Every piece of our collection has been made by hand by master ceramicists. Also decorations have been painted by hand, piece by piece, with precious glazes and firings. Small imperfections that sometimes can be noticed witness the originality and the craft manufacturing process of the product. Every object is provided with a certificate stating the uniqueness of the object.
